

Project Overview

As of May 22, 2013

THE CITY OF COLUMBUS
MICHAEL B. COLEMAN, MAYOR

DEPARTMENT OF
PUBLIC SERVICE

Joyce Avenue Improvements – Phases 1, 2 and 3

This joint project between the departments of Public Service and Public Utilities will increase pedestrian, motorist and bicyclist safety; improve roadway appearance; add stormwater drainage facilities and encourage redevelopment in the corridor.

Phase 1: Joyce between Kenmore Road and alley north of Hudson Street, Hudson between Cleveland and Parkwood avenues

In construction, with completion expected by autumn 2013, weather permitting, and estimated cost $8.3 million.

Contact Information for Phase 1:

City of Columbus Project Manager Joe Warino, P.E., 645-0444
Construction Contractor: Complete General Construction

Phase 2: Joyce between 12th Avenue and northern edge of Maloney Park, 17th Avenue between Brentnell Avenue and 300 feet west of Billiter Boulevard

Design is nearing completion, with construction expected to start in spring 2014 and subject to funding approval. Estimated cost: $8.15 million

Phase 3: Joyce between Kenmore Road and northern edge of Maloney Park

Design is scheduled for completion in December 2013, with construction expected to start in 2016 and subject to funding approval. Estimated cost: $4.75 million

Current plans for Phases 2 and 3 include:

- Widening and resurfacing Joyce from two to three lanes in several sections
- Addition of curbs, gutters, sidewalks, street lighting, trees, stormwater system and Americans with Disabilities Act-compliant curb ramps
- Construction of shared-use path for bicyclists, pedestrians and mobility-impaired people
- Installation of upgraded traffic signals and signage

Contact Information for Phases 2 and 3:

City of Columbus Project Manager Jamie Gordon, P.E., 645-6068
Designer: DLZ, Ohio
Construction Contractor: TBD

Phase 1

Phase 3

Phase 2

